ARTIST-FIRST ETHOS

Singular Artists is an exciting and credible independent event promotions company encompassing booking and management services. We proudly represent a number of artists internationally as well as using our long-established relationships to source and provide talent for venues, festivals and events worldwide.

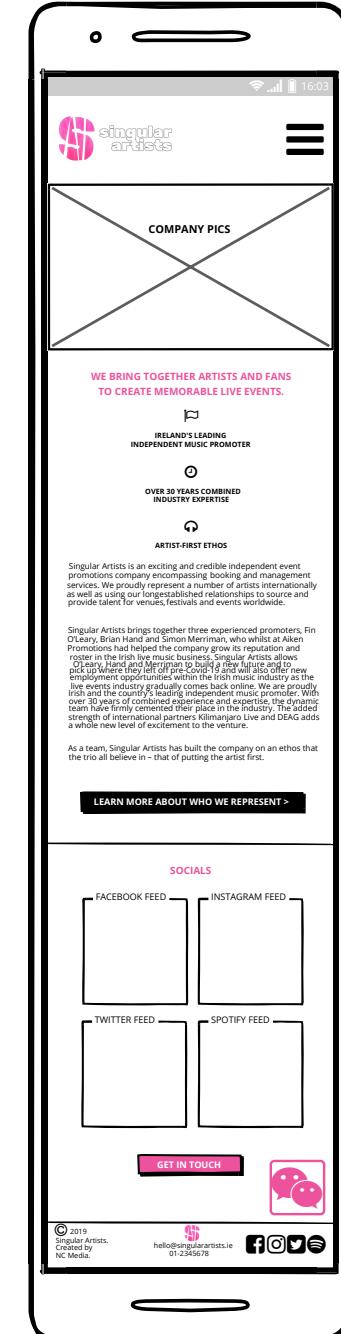

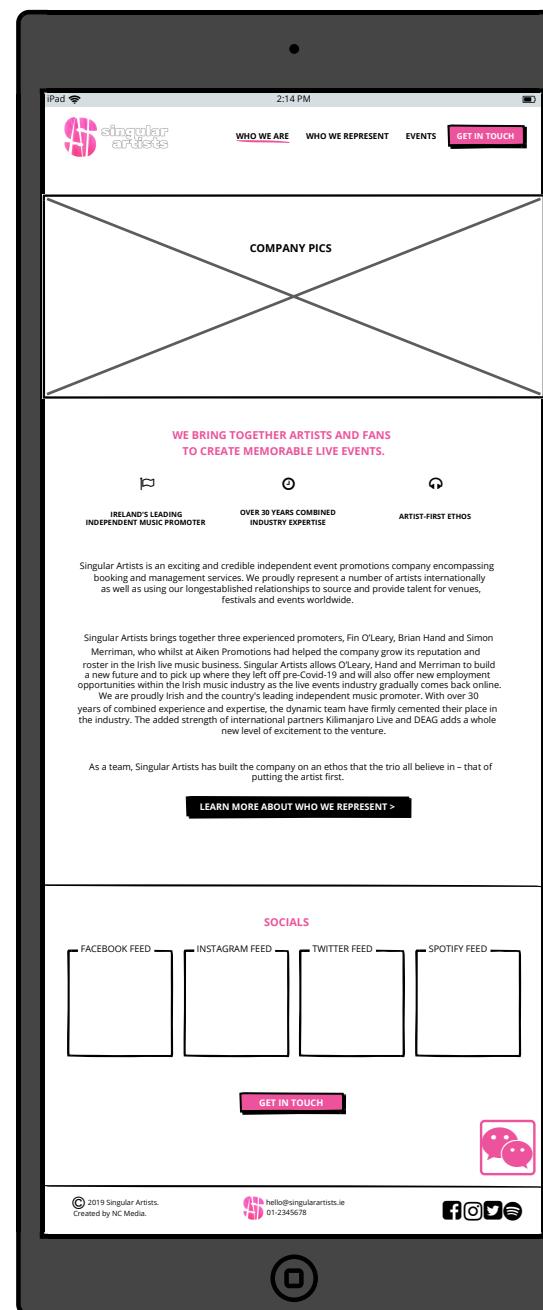

Singular Artists brings together three experienced promoters, Fin O'Leary, Brian Hand and Simon Merriman, who whilst at Aiken Promotions had helped the company grow its reputation and roster in the Irish live music business. Singular Artists allows O'Leary, Hand and Merriman to build a new brand to take the lead where they left off pre-Covid-19 and bring their extensive experience and contacts within the Irish music industry gradually coming back online.

We are proudly Ireland's and the country's leading independent music promoter. With over 30 years of combined experience and expertise, the dynamic team have firmly cemented their place in the industry. The added strength of international partners Kilimanjaro Live and DEAG adds a whole new level of excitement to the venture.

As a team, Singular Artists has built the company on an ethos that the trio all believe in – that of putting the artist first.
